

LIZBETH J. WOLFSON

Lizbeth J. Wolfson is Director of Marketing for EXECUTIVE FORUM. Beth has 21 years of leadership experience in an industry that has gone through tremendous change due to the application of technology, regulatory reform, and increased competition in the market.

She understands that organizations need to have access to cutting edge and innovative ideas in order to thrive. Beth excels in facilitating process improvement teams, implementing creative organizational solutions, and designing programs that lead to the desired results.

Beth is effective in mediation, conflict management, and alternative dispute resolution. She operates on her personal philosophy that one person can make a difference in any organization.

Organizations

- Rose Medical Center
- Swedish Medical Center

Certification

- Alternative Dispute Resolution (Certificate from University of Denver)
- Registered Health Information Administrator
- Zenger-Miller Management Training
- Vital Smarts™ Crucial Conversations
-

Affiliations/Professional Service

- Jefferson County Mediation Services
- Denver Bar Association/Colorado Bar Association Mediation Program
- Colorado Health Information Management Association
- Adjunct Instructor, Regis University

Education

M.A. in Applied Communications, University of Denver

B. S. in Health Information Administration, Medical University of South Carolina